Pushcart Sweepstakes Taken by Delta Gamma

By MIKE DUNNE

Rain stopped falling long enough Friday afternoon to allow Delta Gamma sorority—using a borrowed cart and with a woman behind the wheel—a dry 1:12.6 run and the right to take home the sweepstakes trophy from Lambda Chi Alpha's 15th annual Pushcart Relays.

Pushing the cart to victory over Alpha Tau Omega fraternity—Division A winners—were Jim Cadile, Merv Smith, Jerry Colletto, Cass Jackson and Tony Machutes. Driver was Nancy Peterson.

Placing second in the women's division—Division B—was Kappa Alpha Theta, last year's runner-up in sweepstakes competition.

Finishing behind ATO in the men's division was Theta Chi. Delta Gamma had to beat out Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Phi sororities in relay action before facing Kappa Alpha Theta in a main event.

Alpha Tau Omega had to outrun Sigma Pi, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Moulder Hall before facing Theta Chi in the second trophy dash.

Relay competition was originally scheduled for the track adjacent to Spartan Stadium, but because carts were sinking in the soggy ground, Lennie Sletten, course chairman, marked off another 560 yard course on an asphalt oval circling Spartan Stadium. This switch was decided less than an hour before the races started, according to Lee Grimes, event chairman.

"The success of Pushcart Relays shows the cooperation between fraternities and sororities and between the Greek system and independents," said Grimes following the final heat.

ROTC Schedules Annual Inspection

The Annual Formal and Annual General Inspection of San Jose State's Army ROTC facilities will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, Lt. Col. Jack M. Meiss, inspector general, XV U.S. Army Corps from Presidio, San Francisco, will be accompanied by Major William C. Chisholm and Master Sergeant Ernest F. Gardner during the two-day inspection.

Economics To Plan Student Organization

Interested in forming a student organization within the Economics Department?

A meeting for all interested economics majors and minors will be held tomorrow in CH167 at 1:30 p.m.

Students who are interested but cannot attend the meeting may sign up, name and phone number, on the Economics Department bulletin board.

Panel Talk Opens AWS Activities

Women's Week, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, to honor all coeds and faculty women on campus, begins tomorrow afternoon with a discussion group composed of SJS faculty members. The panel will be held at 2:30 in TH55.

Participating are: Dr. Gladys F. Gilmore, associate professor of history; Dr. Donald Head, assistant professor of English; Dr. Marion Richards, associate professor of English; Miss Nancy Shingler, instructor in speech and drama; and Dr. Robert Wilson, assistant professor of sociology.

Topics to be discussed include: "Women in College," "Personal Development of the College Woman," and "Careers for the College Graduate."

Moderator for the afternoon is Miss Jeanie Archer. Tomorrow night at 7:30 in the AWS Lounge on the second floor of the College Union, Dr. Snell Putney, associate professor of sociology, speaks on "War, Peace and Women."

At 3:30 a fashion show and a speech by Dr. Alice Dement, personnel counselor on the subject "Ladies' Choice" will be presented.

Awards will be presented to the 50 Outstanding Women, as well as to the Outstanding Woman on campus and the outstanding Faculty Woman of the year.

Chi Omega, winners of Sparta Sings, will perform.

Miss Frances Robinson, associate professor of music, will speak Thursday night at 7:30 in the AWS Lounge. Her topic will be "European Women and American Women."

Planning and overseeing activities for the week is Barbara Barnard, chairman. Working with her are Terri Harrington and Judy Strobridge, fashion show; Pat Leire, tea; Joan Bakken, publicity; Sharon King, programs and decoration; and Ruth Wood, awards.

Student Wins Journalism Scholarship

Ceinwen Carney, 2173 Dry Creek Road, San Jose, Del Mar High School senior, has won the third annual Bernard H. Ridder Sr. Journalism contest, according to Robert Norris, Mercury and News representative.

The Mercury and News sponsored the $500 scholarship competition held on the SJS campus last week. The students competed in a current events test and a speech follow-up report judged by the staff of the SJS Advertising and Journalism Department.

Runners-up are: Kurt Sanders, Awalt High School, Mountain View; Sande Lange, Santa Clara High School, Santa Clara; Jeanne Collins, Willow Glen High School, San Jose, and Marilyn McCullough, Buchser High School, Santa Clara.

The winning speech follow-up is reprinted here:

"The first amendment to the constitution is no guarantee of freedom of the press in America today," stated Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the Department of Journalism and Advertising at San Jose State, in a speech Friday to candidates for the San Jose Mercury-News Scholarship.

Bentel warned the young journalists that the first amendment is almost meaningless in its phraseology, for freedom of the press is never defined, and Congress is the only legislative body mentioned. Also, the amendment does not provide for freedom of the press, stipulating only that Congress cannot interfere.

Since there is no constitutional assurance of this liberty, the determination of the citizenry to recognize the values of freedom of the press and to defend them are the only guarantees of its existence.

"What keeps the citizens conscious of their responsibility? The press itself," Dr. Bentel indicated that only "an adequate, responsible, enlightened press" can support American ideals in the modern world.

"What do I mean by 'the press'?" I am talking about you people. You have the ultimate responsibility to enforce freedom of the press upon which our democracy is more dependent than ever before."

Emphasizing America's democratic heritage, Dr. Bentel commented that the individual must have the knowledge to make this country work. "The press has the job of accurately informing the citizen of things which he should know to be more effective in society."

Bentel closed his remarks by stressing the significance of the free press in America today. He declared, "America was founded upon the press and the people who control that press. There is no more important institution."

The brief address was part of the Ridder scholarship contest, held on the college campus, in which approximately 30 students took part.

Art Majors, Minors Pre-Reg May 16-17

Art majors and minors are reminded to see their adviser today, tomorrow, and Wednesday prior to their pre-registration in that field. Advisers will provide students with pre-registration data.

Pre-registration will be on Thursday and Friday only, in A114, announced Mr. John S. Leary, associate professor of art and chairman of the art advisers committee. There will be no pre-registration any other time, he said.

Juniors, seniors and graduates are eligible to register on Thursday, while freshmen, sophomores and art minors may pre-register on Friday. The hours for pre-registration are from 9 a.m. to 12, and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. both days.

Speaks Tomorrow

Ciardi To Discuss Values of a College

Poet, teacher, editor and translator, John Ciardi will speak in Concert Hall tomorrow morning at 11:30, discussing "What Good is A College?"

Poetry editor and critic for the Saturday Review, Ciardi is perhaps best known for his work in translations, among which is Dante's "Divine Comedy."

Ciardi is former host of the television show "Accent," a highly rated discussion program.

JOHN CIARDI
... poet and translator

A native of Boston, Ciardi was graduated from Tufts College from which he recently received an honorary Litt. degree. He did graduate work at the University of Michigan, was an instructor in English at the University of Kansas City and, after serving in the Air Force, instructed at Harvard. He later became professor of English at Rutgers University.

Prof. Ciardi is the recipient of many awards including the Avery Hopwood Award, 1939; Blumenthal Prize, 1944; Eunice Tiejens Award, 1945; Levinson Prize, 1947; Harriet Monroe Memorial Award, 1955; Prix de Rome, 1956; and many others.

Author of eight books of poetry, Ciardi is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, a fellow of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and past president of the National College English Association.

Ciardi's lecture is in conjunction with a statewide series of talks by academic and public affairs authorities under the sponsorship of the California State Colleges. His lecture will be open to the public without charge.

Psychologist To Discuss Monotony

Work which constitutes sheer monotony does not always indicate such work is boring.

Dr. William H. McBain, associate professor of psychology, will explore this subject when he discusses "Is Monotony Boring?" at 2:30 p.m. today in CH235.

"Monotonous tasks can affect different people as either boring or non-boring," said Dr. McBain.

Explaining that "varying degrees of several factors, such as intelligence, must be considered, Dr. McBain illustrated with a simplified example. Some woman, he said, can wash dishes purely as an automatic response and without conscious effort. To other women, such a monotonous chore may become boring because of their intense concentration on the job.

The purpose of Dr. McBain's current research activity, which is financed by a grant from the Accident Prevention Division of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is to "develop a technique of predicting the susceptibility of individuals to accidents... brought about by monotonous conditions of work."

By test situations Dr. McBain is hoping to be able to predict, time after time, persons who will not be adversely affected by monotonous work.

Monotonous work contributes to a lack of alertness and there is evidence that the result is reduced efficiency, he said. "Such reduced efficiency in a dangerous work situation might readily lead to the occurrence of accidents," said Dr. McBain.

SJS Concert To Feature Hollingsworth

"The Psalm of David," an ASB commissioned work by Stanley Hollingsworth, assistant professor of music, will be performed for the first time tonight and tomorrow evening in Concert Hall at 8:15. The concert is free to everyone, no tickets needed, so plan to attend early as the hall holds only 570 people.

Composed to feature the college orchestra and a cappella choir, the work will also feature Frederick Loadwick, associate professor of music, as soloist.

Other plans for the program include "The Mother," a one-act opera by Hollingsworth based on a story by Hans Christian Andersen.

International Week Brings Rafer Johnson

Rafer Johnson, national director of the People to People program, will speak at a symposium Wednesday at 12:30 in TH55 as part of International Week.

Johnson, acclaimed as the world's greatest athlete, will speak on "The Student's Responsibility in World Understanding." His talk is sponsored by the Inter-cultural Steering Committee.

Johnson joined the People to People program in 1962 when the university program was being developed on a national basis. At that time he was a Special Consultant for the Peace Corps, in which he is still active.

Following his retirement from active competition after his Olympic decathlon victory in 1960 he continued to work for the State Department and in 1961 toured the Middle East.

Johnson's travels have taken him around the world and he has made several tours on behalf of the U.S. State Department. In 1958, he visited Russia and India and Europe in 1960.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS
Wednesday, May 15—Rafer Johnson, national director of the University People to People Program, will speak on "The Student's Responsibility in World Understanding."

Friday, May 17—Selection of reigning queen during the Queen's Reception at the Spartan Cafeteria between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The International Bazaar will have 11 booths set up in the Outer Quad to sell international food between 11:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Saturday, May 18—(7:30) Ambassador's Reception at the Hawaiian Gardens; (8:30) the International Ball and queen coronation. Tickets are now available in front of Spartan Bookstore and Spartan Cafeteria for $1. During this week there will be displays in the library featuring works, artifacts and exhibits from 10 nations.

Dr. William D. Moellering, professor of foreign languages, who has just returned from a sabbatical to Spain, will speak to the campus community tonight at 7:30 on "Today's Student: Here and Abroad."

Dr. Moellering's speech is sponsored by the IFC-Panhellenic Cultural Committee. He will discuss the differences between students on campuses in Europe and the United States.

His speech will include general notations about Spain and its history and pertinent observations concerning university students such as student attitudes toward education.

Dr. Moellering has had widespread teaching experience in the United States and has been on the SJS faculty since 1947.

Available for the speech will be 800 seats set up in the recreation field between the dorms on Eighth Street. All fraternity and sorority meetings will be discontinued at 7 p.m. so that all can attend, according to Arleen Langley and Dwane Carlstrom, co-chairmen.

Lyke on Sale

Lyke offers a "new look." On sale Wednesday, Lyke will feature a special 16-page color stock insert. Fiction, features and art will be included in this section.

"Three Lyke Dolls, three Lyke interviews and Lyke cup-cakes offer a trio of tempting reasons to buy the campus feature magazine," according to Chris Headings, editor.

The magazine will be sold Wednesday and Thursday at various campus locations.

Sexual Ethics Discussed Tonight By Psychologist

Can there be sexual ethics for the latter half of the 20th century?

Dr. Bruce Ogilvie, associate professor of psychology, will discuss this question at Allen Hall informal lounge tonight at 8 p.m.

The speech is the last in a series of cultural presentations offered to the college by the Allen Hall Cultural Committee.

Students and the public are invited to attend this final guest lecture.

Grad Representative Position Is Filled

Senior business and industrial management major Bill Erdman was elected by write-in ballot to fill the graduate representative vacancy on next year's Student Council.

Gary Wexler, election board chairman, explained that the reason for delay on the announcement was the work involved in checking the qualifications of the write-in candidates. Elections were April 23 and 24.

John Olsen, physical education major, was elected as an unopposed candidate for graduate representative on the ballot.

ART STUDENTS (l. to r.), Marge Murray, Francy Balcomb and Mary Avrii turn in their art works to Doug Vogle for the 1963 annual Student Fine Arts Exhibition, on view May 20 to June 7 in the campus art gallery. All of the works may be purchased and will be judged by San Francisco Chronicle art critic Alfred Frankenstein.

WRA Sports Announce Winners

The Women's Recreation Association recently announced the winners of its basketball and badminton tournaments.

Phi Mu sorority won the basketball championship for the third consecutive year by defeating Chi Omega. The third straight win permits Phi Mu to keep the WRA's perpetual trophy.

Linda Long and Shirley Smales won first place in the doubles round robin badminton tournament. Carole Stikes and Dorothy Meyer won second place, and Jennette Couste and Micki Faber won third place.

The softball championship will be decided in two games. Royce Hall will play the Catholic Women's Center May 14. The winner will play Alpha Chi Omega May 16.

Hawaii and Back on $1.10

By CAROL SWENSEN

"All I had was $1.10 and the clothes I was wearing."

"They asked me to cooperate for I was going on a short plane trip. Another instruction: don't open the sealed envelope containing your destination until boarding."

"Then it was too late. I about died when I found out where flight 402 was headed."

Who were "they"? Six pledges from Theta Chi fraternity.

Who was the "victim"? Tom Volz, sophomore public administration major and Theta Chi pledge marshal.

Where was the destination? Hawaii.

"It all started Saturday afternoon. I had just finished taking the placement exam for the Peace Corps when I was met by a group of pledges and whisked off to the Oakland Airport," Volz began.

Last year the TC pledges started this tradition by sending their pledge marshal via plane to Los Angeles. This year they decided a $99 one-way ticket to Hawaii was just the gift for Tom.

"Everyone on the plane soon knew what had happened but few believed it. Upon arrival I called collect to the house and they said it would be a few days until I got any money," Volz quipped.

"One of the stewardesses offered to find lodging for me. The crew members took me out to dinner and gave me a tour of the island so I felt right at home," Volz added. "I also met a TC from Stanford who loaned me a surfboard and trunks. I really had the breaks."

It was the active's duty to collect enough money to get Tom back. A money order finally arrived Tuesday.

Wednesday morning Volz left the enchanted island after getting up at 6 a.m. to enjoy the surf for the last time. When Tom stepped off the plane in San Francisco he had 2 cents left, and a grass skirt gifted him by the crew members.

Because of a mix-up in time schedules, the welcome home party was not at the airport. So Tom, who's peeling already because he got "too much sun, too fast," hitch-hiked home.

4,182 MILES LATER, Tom Volz (r.), sophomore public administration major and Theta Chi pledge marshal, returns home after four glorious days in Hawaii which were a "gift" to him by pledges and actives. Paul Rogers (l.), gives him a welcome handshake.

Marivaux's 'Game of Love, Chance' Coming Friday; Comic Switches

"The Game of Love and Chance," a French comedy by Pierre de Marivaux, makes use of the comic situation of a young girl whose father has chosen her husband-to-be. She decides to swap places with her maid. The trouble arises when the husband-to-be latches onto the same idea.

The play will be produced by the Speech and Drama Department Friday and Saturday and May 22, 23, 24 and 25. Tickets are now on sale at the Theater Box Office each afternoon for 50 cents to students.

Written in 1730, the play will retain the usual conventions of the period — asides to the audience, the use of dances to end the acts, soliloquies — and also the costumes.

According to Professor Ward Williamson, director, the reason for the comic situation of a double switch is a romantic one: both lovers decide on the disguise because each has a genuine concern for love and is determined to find a partner who will marry for love, not merely fashion.

Studio Band Holds Joint Jazz Concert Here Wednesday

Wednesday the San Jose Studio Band will hold a joint concert with the College of San Mateo Jazz Band in Concert Hall at 8 p.m.

Actively battling with weapons of modern jazz arrangements, the "Education in Jazz" will cost students 50 cents, a nominal fee to help pay travel expenses.

The performance of big band and combo jazz pieces will have a heavy accent on the modern arrangements. According to Jerry Powers, a soloist in the concert, the band has "previously performed at the Monterey Jazz Festival and is known for its fine ensemble playing."

The only trouble is, it's been banned. From the radio at least.
In fact, the whole darn Capitol

Holmes Sets 440 Mark; Doubling Kills Spartans

By JOHN HENRY
Freshman Mel Holmes proved to be the Spartan standout at the West Coast Relays at Fresno Saturday. Holmes set a new Spartan freshman record in the 440, as he took third in the open event with a 47.8 clocking.

This wasn't enough to help the Spartans, who were weary from doubling in the relays. The Spartans took second in the distance medley relay with a time of 9:44.3, the second best time in the nation this year. However, Oregon State equaled the West Coast Relays record with a time of 9:40.5. The big man for OSU was Norm Hoffman, who ran the 1320 in 2:55.7, four seconds under the world mark.

After this race the Spartans seemed out of it. Forty-five minutes later, three of the runners in the medley were asked to come back in the two-mile relay. It proved too much for Ben Tucker, who had run a 4:06 split in the medley. Jim Groothoff and Jose Azevedo. Along with Larry LeFall, the Spartan team ran dead last. There were a few bright spots for Spartans, though, as freshman Joe Neff won his heat of the mile in 4:11.1. This was only good for sixth place overall.

In addition, pole vaulter Roger Werne vaulted his all-time best of 14-6, but it was only good for a five-way tie for sixth.

In the sprints, freshman Ed Moody ran a 9.6 100, but placed fourth in his heat and didn't qualify for the finals.

SAE Topples PiKA; Tied for Loop Lead

Sigma Alpha Epsilon scored two runs in the fourth to tie and two more in the fifth to win Thursday. It knocked Pi Kappa Alpha out of the unbeaten class with a 9-7 victory.

The game sent the league into a three-way tie between Alpha Tau Omega, SAE and PiKA. ATO beat Delta Upsilon, 11-4, in another game.

Brian McCoy homered and hit two doubles to lead Sigma Pi to an upset win over Theta Chi, 13-8. Sigma Pi had three other homers, one a grand-slam by Shannon Davis.

In other games, Sigma Phi Epsilon, led by the pitching and hitting of Rex Zimmerman, topped Delta Sigma Phi, 12-2, and Phi Sigma Kappa won by forfeit from Theta Xi.

In an independent fast-pitch game, the Cal-Hawaiians whipped Moulder Hall, 8-4. The game was the replay of a previous game which was protested. The Cal-Hawaiians won that one, 2-1.

Indian Golfers Thump Locals

Stanford zipped up San Jose State's golf schedule for the year with a 16½-10½ win over the Spartans in steady rainshowers at Stanford Friday.

Dan James and Gary Plato, with 2-over-par 73s, joined with three Stanford linksmen in tying for medalist honors.

John Lotz defeated Pete Choate in the feature match 2-1, although both shot rounds of 75. The setback lowered the Spartans to 14-2-1 on the year in dual play.

In April, SJS trimmed the Tribe 17½-9½ to end the latter's 31-match dual win streak. Bud Finger's golfers found sweet revenge Friday in the last match for both teams before June's NCAA championships.

The SJS frosh and Stanford yearlings putted to a 13½-13½ tie Friday, also at Stanford. Ron Cerudo of San Jose was medalist with 74, while teammates Terry Small and Jimmy Johnson had 78s.

by Mary Baker Eddy

Satisfying human relationships can make a big difference between success and failure in college. Whether it's a roommate, a professor, your family, or friends, you want to get along well with them. We are learning a lot about this through our study of the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. You can, too.

We invite you to come to our meetings and to hear how we are working out our problems through applying the truths of Christian Science.

why eat hamburger when you can have filet mignon?
Hamburger is good but filet mignon is better. Some fellows in college work for meals. Others work in stores and offices for wages they are ashamed of. The lucky ones sell Great Books and — with a little bit of luck and perseverance — become B.M.O.C. overnight — or at least after getting the first few orders.
The Great Books Sales Organization understands the needs and desires of college students. Each year over 2000 students seeking employment, find that they are able to BANK over $1000 during the summer months as G. B. representatives. As a case and point — Jerry Ashton, S.J.S. senior, has made over $1400 since February 1, with Great Books. Jerry graduates this June and looks forward to a full time career.
Great Books is anticipating the largest expansion program in its history. This means that excellent openings are available now particularly for summer work by college students. Trainees who qualify can expect to earn up to $300 the first month and $450 by the second month with steady increases thereafter. (In addition, they will gain poise, and learn how to handle people — all of which are valuable assets for any future job.) Those who qualify and do part-time selling during the school year will also be eligible to share in the Salesman's Annual Incentive Fund — a bonus plan that makes it possible for you to earn up to $1,000 in addition to commissions.
Those interested in full or part-time careers as a Great Books representative should contact the local Great Books office or write, phone, or wire collect:

Solid Spartan Backfield Wading Deep in Depth

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a five-part series of articles previewing the 1963 Spartan football team.

By DAVE NEWHOUSE
The 1963 Spartan football picture has been brightened by the finest grouping of running and pass-receiving backs since 1957. Bob Titchenal's first year as head coach at San Jose State.

"We've got more depth at fullback, tight back and flanker than at any time in my six years here," Titchenal said. "The top four men at each of these positions started out in our football system as freshmen."

WALT ROBERTS
... break away threat

Johnny Johnson's loss at fullback would make any aspiring coach shudder — every coach, that is, except Titchenal.

Two sophomores and two juniors are battling for Johnson's vacant spot. All four can hit hard as ball carriers and also block with authority.

Titchenal gives the starting nod to junior Herb Engel, (195) No. 2 fullback last fall, mainly due to his experience.

Close on Engel's heels are sophomore red-shirt Jerry Bonetto (195) built along the lines of a stunted rhinoceros, and Charlie Haraway (210), a promising frosh graduate.

Engel is the best head-on rusher, with Bonetto and Haraway good runners either inside or out.

The fourth prospect is Bob Bonds, a 200-pounder, who's the fastest of the lot. He can play flanker if needed, where he played on the 1961 eleven.

At tight, or running back, Walt Roberts (170) and Jerry Colletto (160), both seniors, should run 1-2 in that order.

"Roberts is the smartest, most consistent back we have," Titchenal declared. "With any blocking at all, he and Colletto could rank at the top of the nation's kickoff return leaders."

Roberts and Colletto are both sub-10 second men in the 100-yard dash, and can go all the way with any daylight at all.

A third back, junior Bob Paterson (190), is a shifter runner than either Roberts or Colletto. Titchenal feels Paterson is potentially the best punter on the coast, where he'll perform for SJS in the fall.

Sophomore's Bob Harkins (180) and Dennis Parker (180) will also see their share of playing minutes.

Dave Johnson (185), the best receiver, and Cass Jackson (180), the fastest runner, stand 1-2 at flanker back. Johnson has been converted from end. Sophomores John Owens and Stan Cross provide adequate insurance here.

Open to Every Student -- $50 Prize For Finest Stage Scene Designing

Want to win $50?

The 12th annual scene design contest, open to every student, is offering this prize to the best design of a play or opera stage setting, according to Wendell Johnson, professor of drama. Deadline for the entrants is June 6.

Designing should be done in color and properly mounted, with a floor plan accompanying it, Johnson remarked. The alternative is presentation of six costumes for a certain play.

Any student wishing more information on how to present and prepare the design could make an appointment in SD100, the speech and drama office, to see Johnson or Miss Berneice Prisk, associate professor of drama.
